Introduction

NSW government agencies spent around $34 billion on goods, services and construction in 2018-19, with spend increasing by an average $2.7 billion per annum over the past five years. Alongside this increasing procurement expenditure, the NSW Government has committed $87.2 billion over the next four years for critical infrastructure.

To ensure this money is spent fairly and efficiently, and for the long-term benefit of everyone in NSW, government buyers must comply with a range of legislative and policy requirements.

Using the framework

The NSW Procurement Policy Framework provides a consolidated view of government procurement objectives and the Procurement Board's requirements as they apply to each step of the procurement process.

NSW Procurement Policy Framework is a "policy" for the purposes of s.176(1)(a) of the Public Works and Procurement Act 1912. Government agencies, as defined in s.162 of the Act, must comply with the mandatory parts of this document.

Procurement has a broad end-to-end definition from 'needs identification' to 'contracting and placing orders', managing contracts and supplier relationships and disposing of government assets.

The framework applies to the procurement of goods and services of any kind including construction. For clarity, the framework identifies the requirements that apply to all procurement, to construction procurement, or to goods and services procurement.

The term 'must' denotes mandatory rules based on requirements embedded in legislation, government policy and Procurement Board Directions and policies.

The terms 'should', 'may' and 'recommended' indicate good practice with supporting documents categorised as guidance.

All dollar values and thresholds are exclusive of GST and contract value means the total estimated spend over the life of the contract, unless otherwise specified.

Terms in italics are defined in the Glossary at the end of the framework.

Who is this document for?

This document is for everyone who buys goods or services including construction on behalf of NSW Government as well as policy makers of all levels. Agencies should ensure that their internal policies and controls are consistent with any obligations under this Framework.

What's new as at 1 October 2020

- 1 The revised Accreditation Program for Construction Procurement came into effect on 1 October 2020. Construction accreditation and assurance processes have been updated:
 - Section 2:01 Plan: Accreditation and authority to procure and Agency procurement planning, pp. 35-36
 - Section 3:02 Governance and feedback: Accreditation programs, pp. 108-109.
- 2 PBD 2019-05 Enforceable Procurement Provisions has been amended to reflect the revised thresholds for covered procurements. The thresholds are now $680,000 for goods and services procurement, and $9.584 million for construction procurement. References have been updated throughout the Framework.
- 3 PBD 2020-04 Approved Procurement Arrangements replaced PBD 2019-04 Approved Procurement Arrangements. The threshold above which unaccredited agencies must seek concurrence from an accredited agency or NSW Procurement for goods and services procurements has increased from $650,000 to $680,000. This aligns with the increase in the covered procurement threshold.
 - Section 2:01 Plan: Accreditation and authority to procure, p. 35.

Additional information

Foundation legislation and policies

The Public Works and Procurement Act 1912 (PWP Act) provides the legislative framework for procurement for NSW government agencies.

The PWP Act establishes the NSW Procurement Board, its objectives and functions and defines the procurement obligations of government agencies.

NSW Government agencies must comply with a range of procurement-related requirements including:

- The PWP Act, Government Sector Finance Act 2018, Independent Commission Against Corruption Act 1988, Government Information (Public Access) Act 2009 and other legislation
- NSW Government policy
- NSW Procurement Board Directions and policies
- Premier's Memoranda
- Treasurer's Directions.

Agency responsibilities

NSW Government procurement operates within a devolved governance structure. The heads of government agencies are ultimately responsible for managing their agency's procurement in compliance with procurement law and government policy and entering into contracts on behalf of their agency. If the Procurement Board allocates responsibility for a whole-of-government category or agreement to an agency, the agency head is also responsible for entering into those agreements on behalf of the whole-of-government.

It is critical to the governance of agency procurement that clusters or agencies appoint a Chief Procurement Officer.

Accreditation

An agency's authority to procure differs according to the terms of its accreditation by the Procurement Board under section 174 of the PWP Act. Further information on the goods and services and construction accreditation schemes is in Section 3.2.

Compliance

The PWP Act and the Procurement Board's policies and directions apply to all government agencies, excluding state-owned corporations and local councils, as defined in s.162 of the Act. The Act and the Procurement Board's policies also apply to agencies that undertake procurement to fulfil statutory functions or have other statutory powers to undertake procurement.

Agencies must regularly test their compliance with the mandatory requirements of this framework and other Procurement Board policies and directions. For accredited agencies this will inform the annual self-assessment attestation.

Value for money

The overarching consideration for government procurement is ensuring best value for money in the procurement of goods, services and construction.

Value for money is not necessarily the lowest price, nor the highest quality good or service. It requires a balanced assessment of a range of financial and non-financial factors, such as: quality, cost, fitness for purpose, capability, capacity, risk, total cost of ownership or other relevant factors.

Fair and open competition

Fair and open competition improves outcomes for NSW by broadening access to government procurement, especially for SMEs and regional businesses.

Transparent, competitive processes build trust in government procurement practices and decisions, drive fair and ethical behaviour, safeguard probity and foster healthy working relationships between government buyers and suppliers. Competition produces tangible outcomes such as cost savings, increased quality and innovation and supports market sustainability.

Relating to	Status	Category		Value	Obligation	Reference

Easy to do business

NSW aims to be the easiest state to start and stay in business.

Making government procurement simpler, easier and more efficient saves time and money for both agencies and businesses. Streamlined and accessible processes lower barriers to participation and expand opportunities to a broad supply base, especially small and medium businesses.

Relating to	Status	Category	Value	Obligation	Reference
Notifying suppliers of business opportunities				Any	You must advertise open tenders electronically on NSW eTendering . Print advertising may only be used in exceptional circumstances where electronic advertising will not meet the agency's needs. In these cases, eTendering must still also be used to, at a minimum, notify the market of the tender.
				Any
				Any
Contracts and prequalification schemes		 		Any	Mandated contracts must be used for ICT (Procure IT framework) and human services procurements .
				> $1.3 million	Unaccredited and partially accredited agencies must use the guidelines and contract templates on buy.nsw for construction works valued over $1.3 million. (Refer Section 2:02 Source, Contract requirements).
				Any	Procurements using whole-of-government arrangements, e.g. standing offers and prequalification schemes, must use the designated customer contract for those arrangements.

Relating to	Status	Category	Value	Obligation	Reference
Contracts and prequalification schemes		 	Any	Agencies should use standard tender and contract templates with uniform terms and conditions across the agency, to make it easier for potential suppliers to familiarise themselves with contract requirements.
		 	Any	You should use plain English and limit contract length and complexity.
		 	Any	You should apply the Procurement Board's recommended commercial approaches to key contract terms except where individual circumstances and/or value for money considerations require otherwise.	Commercial approaches in contracts
		 	Any	You should minimise insurances and indemnities imposed on suppliers, with risk allocated to the party best placed to mitigate or manage those risks.
		 	Any	You should identify opportunities to establish prequalification schemes in place of panel contracts and standing offers, so that new suppliers are not locked out of government business opportunities for long periods.
Supplier payments		 	Any	You must pay registered small businesses (< 20 FTEs) within 5 business days of receipt of a correctly rendered invoice for payments of $10,000 – $1 million, unless an existing contract or standing offer provides for an alternative time period.	Faster Payment Terms Policy
		 	Any	You should pay suppliers within contractual timeframes, noting your agency must report on payment performance in its annual report.

Innovation

The marketplace is a great source of innovation and can assist government to work smarter and deliver better services.

Industry engagement and flexible procurement practices assist agencies to adopt innovative services and solutions and support supplier innovation in government's supply chains.

Innovation can be encouraged at three levels of market engagement:

- at the state economic level – through effective, early, structured, and open communication of needs to the market
- at the sourcing level – by adapting sourcing methods to facilitate innovation and collaboration
- at the contract management level – by focusing on outcomes and developing supplier relationships that deliver value beyond the contract.

Economic development, social outcomes and sustainability

Government procurement can help to support economic participation, social outcomes, develop skills and create jobs for the citizens of NSW.

By building a diverse supply base, government agencies can support businesses of all types to grow and encourage economic development across the state.

The government uses procurement to support small and medium sized businesses, Aboriginal-owned businesses, regional businesses, disability employment organisations and social enterprises. It is also using its substantial infrastructure investments to support jobs and skills development for a range of workers including Aboriginal people, apprentices and young people aged under 25 years.

Sustainable procurement focuses on spending public money efficiently, economically and ethically to deliver value for money on a whole of life basis. Sustainable procurement extends the assessment of value for money beyond the sourcing process, considering benefits and risks to the organisation, the community, the economy and impacts on the environment.

Sustainable procurement:

- Considers how procurement impacts society, the economy and the environment
- Provides all suppliers with full and fair opportunities to compete
- Respects stakeholders' interests, the rule of law and human rights
- Seeks innovative solutions to address sustainability throughout the supply chain
- Buys only what is needed or seek sustainable alternatives
- Analyses all procurement costs, including benefits for society, environment and the economy
- Integrates sustainability into procurement practices.

• PLAN, SOURCE, MANAGE •

Plan

Source

Manage

The Plan, Source, Manage approach

Procurements follow three stages: planning, sourcing and managing the procurement.

The Plan, Source, Manage approach identifies key policy requirements and considerations in the procurement process as practical reference for government buyers. It is not intended as a prescriptive process for all procurement. The importance of each stage depends on the size, priorities, required outcomes, risk profile and type of procurement.

The Plan and Manage stages are the most critical to creating and delivering value, and appropriate time and resources should be allocated to these activities.

Procurement Board requirements

The Procurement Policy Framework uses the Plan, Source, Manage approach to provide a structured guide to procurement process as specified in legislation, government policies and Procurement Board policies and directions. Key considerations and mandatory requirements are identified at each step in the process.

Agency policies and tendering manual

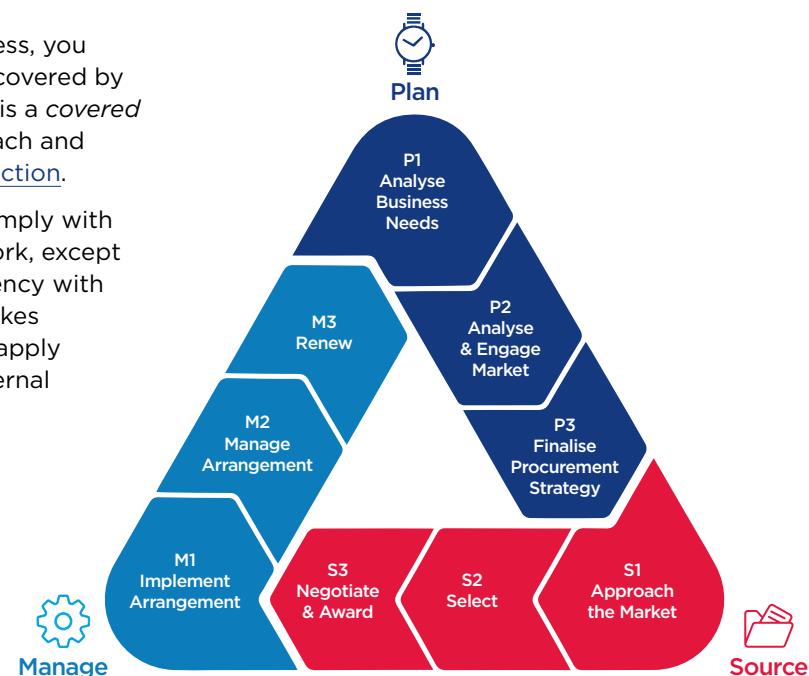

Agency procurement functions will have specific policies and procedures that need to be followed. Agency procurement manuals provide guidance on the specific agency approach to engaging with the market and managing procurement activities.

International procurement agreements

Australia is party to several international trade and procurement agreements which impact NSW government procurement. PBD-2019-05 Enforceable Procurement Provisions (EPP Direction) details the requirements of these international procurement agreements.

Prior to starting any procurement process, you must first assess if the procurement is covered by the EPP Direction. If your procurement is a covered procurement, your procurement approach and process must comply with the EPP Direction.

The procurement process must also comply with the mandatory sections of this framework, except where there is any conflict or inconsistency with the EPP Direction. The EPP Direction takes precedence over all other policies that apply to covered procurements, including internal agency policies.

Plan

Understand the procurement environment and authority to procure.

Contract and supplier management

Relating to	Status	Category	Value	Obligation	Reference
Contract and supplier management		 	Any	Signing an agreement is not the end of a process, but rather the start of an ongoing relationship with the supplier. Both the contract and supplier relationship need to be managed to deliver the best outcome for the agency.	NSW Procurement's approach
		 	Any	You should : <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • ensure smooth transition of services, especially if there is a new supplier • jointly establish systems and processes with the supplier team to ensure compliance with contract terms and performance requirements, and determine who is responsible for key tasks and activities on the agency and supplier sides • define and maintain the right level of management and resources according to the business criticality and complexity of the procurement arrangement • manage performance, drive continuous improvement and encourage innovation in coordination with the supplier and key stakeholders • track and report benefits to demonstrate how value for money is being delivered.
Supplier relationship management		 	Any	Supplier relationship management (SRM) delivers value over and above the minimum levels of performance covered under contracts by focusing attention on the whole value stream.	Supplier Relationship Management Guidelines

Supplier conduct		 	Any	You must use best endeavours to identify adverse findings against suppliers and report such findings to the Procurement Board.	PBD 2017-07 Supplier Conduct
		 	Any	The Supplier Code of Conduct documents the minimum expectations and behaviours for doing business with NSW Government. Your agency can build on the code to hold suppliers to more stringent requirements where appropriate.	Supplier Code of Conduct
		 	Any	Findings of dishonest, unfair, unconscionable, corrupt or illegal conduct have consequences for individual suppliers, up to exclusion from contracting opportunities with the government.
Supplier due diligence		 	Any	You should monitor, on an ongoing basis, supplier compliance with contractual, regulatory and other obligations. The level and frequency of checks will vary depending on the value and risk profile of the contract.	Supplier due diligence: a guide for NSW public sector agencies
Paying suppliers on time		 	< $10,000	You should pay invoices up to $10,000 as soon as possible by PCard or equivalent electronic payment method.	Faster Payment Terms Policy
Small businesses		 	$10,000 – $1 million	In-scope agencies must pay registered small businesses (<20 FTEs) within 5 business days of receipt of a correctly rendered invoice, unless an existing contract or standing offer provides for an alternative time.
		 	$10,000 – $1 million	The Office of the Small Business Commissioner (OSBC) monitors and reports on agency payment performance to small businesses . This process has been automated using the NSW Procurement Spend Cube to develop a small business reporting dashboard.

				Any	You must monitor and annually report to Treasury on FX exposures and any hedges in place.

Agencies should consider using extension options on a case by case basis, allowing enough time to conduct a new procurement exercise if the contract is not meeting the agency's needs or delivering value for money.
				Any	You must only exercise extension options where it can be demonstrated the contract will continue to deliver value for money.
				Any	You should conduct a strategic assessment of the market prior to rolling-over or extending a contract, including how the extension will impact competition and create (or continue) barriers to new suppliers.

Governance

The NSW Procurement Board

The NSW Procurement Board is responsible for developing and implementing a government-wide strategic approach to procurement.

The Secretary of The Treasury is the chairperson of the Procurement Board, delegated to the Deputy Secretary, Commercial, Commissioning and Procurement. The board is made up of the cluster Secretaries, or approved deputies.

Objectives and functions of the Board

The objectives of the Board under section 171 of the Public Works and Procurement Act 1912 are to:

- develop and implement a Government-wide strategic approach to procurement
- ensure best value for money in the procurement of goods and services by and for government agencies
- improve competition and facilitate access to Government procurement business by the private sector, especially by small and medium enterprises and regional enterprises
- reduce administrative costs for government agencies associated with procurement
- simplify procurement processes while ensuring probity and fairness.

The functions of the Board under section 172 of the Act are to:

- oversee the procurement of goods and services by and for government agencies
- develop and implement procurement policies
- issue directions or policies to government agencies
- monitor compliance by government agencies with the requirements of the Act (including NSW Procurement Board directions and policies)
- investigate and deal with complaints about the procurement activities of government agencies
- develop appropriate procurement and business intelligence systems for use by government agencies
- collect, analyse and publish data and statistics in relation to the procurement of goods and services by and for government agencies
- such other functions as are conferred or imposed on the NSW Procurement Board by or under the principal Act or any other Act.

The Board must also exercise its functions in accordance with any applicable Government-wide procurement policies.

Accreditation

The Board accredits agencies to conduct procurement for itself or other government agencies. It may also authorise a government agency to carry out specified procurement of goods and services without accreditation.

Directions and policies of the Board

The Board may issue policies and directions to agencies regarding, but not limited to:

- the methods to be used for procuring goods and services
- contracts for the procurement of specified goods and services
- the kinds of contracts for which tenders are required
- the limits and duration of contracts
- any matters relating to procurement procedures arising from a complaint about the procurement activities of a government agency.

Obligations of agencies

Agencies are required to conduct their procurement functions in accordance with:

- the policies and directions of the Board
- the terms of its accreditation
- the principles of probity and fairness.

Each agency must ensure it obtains value for money when procuring goods and services.

Accreditation programs

The Procurement Board has established separate goods and services and construction accreditation programs. The accreditation programs:

- establish minimum standards for managing procurement activities
- effectively manage risk
- promote the delivery of outcomes towards strategic priorities
- drive continuous improvement and capability development across the sector.

Goods and services accreditation

Level 1 accredited	Agencies may independently conduct procurement activities up to a maximum contract value based on the risk profile of the procurement as follows:
	Low risk	< $50 million
	Medium risk	< $35 million
	High risk	< $20 million
	Concurrence from a Level 2 accredited agency or NSW Procurement is required for a Level 1 accredited agency to conduct procurements above these thresholds.
Level 2 accredited	Agencies may independently conduct procurement activities in line with approved budgets, financial delegations and procurement delegations. The responsibilities of Level 2 accredited agencies include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • taking a leadership role in relation to procurement in the cluster • taking lead buyer status for a category to establish and manage whole-of-government contracts.

Construction accreditation

The Accreditation Program for Construction Procurement addresses the specific capabilities and risks of construction procurement. Accredited agencies have greater autonomy to procure construction services than unaccredited agencies. Accredited agencies also provide assurance services for unaccredited agencies planning construction procurements valued over $1.3 million.

Activity	Accredited agency	Unaccredited agency
Undertake construction procurement valued ≤ $1.3 million	Yes	Yes
Undertake construction procurement valued > $1.3 million	Yes	Must comply with the Assurance Process for Construction Procurement

Responsibilities of accredited agencies

Accredited agencies are responsible for establishing and managing internal procurement systems and governance mechanisms, in compliance with board directions and policies. Accredited agencies must also monitor and report trigger events that could impact their ability to meet accreditation requirements.

Annual self-reporting

Accredited agencies must provide the following reports to the Procurement Board by 31 August each year:

- Agency Procurement Plan for the next 12 or 24 months
- Annual Outcomes Report for the previous financial year
- Self-Assessment Attestation for the previous financial year, signed by the agency head
- For construction accredited agencies, any Trigger Event Management Plans from the previous financial year.

Government procurement arrangements

NSW Government procurement arrangements include contracts, prequalification schemes, standing offers and panels, covering a broad array of goods and services including construction.

Whole-of-government arrangements

Standing offers and panels

Standing offers, including panels, are used by NSW government agencies to purchase goods and services that are required on a recurring basis across the sector. Standing offers are usually established using a tender process.

A standing offer is an arrangement setting out the terms and conditions, including a basis for pricing, under which a supplier agrees to supply specific goods and services to an eligible buyer for a specified period.

A panel arrangement involves more than one supplier whereby a standing offer is established with each supplier covering the same or similar goods or services, including a basis for pricing, for a specified period.

Standing offers and panels, routinely referred to as whole of government contracts, are a closed procurement arrangement where suppliers are approved to provide eligible buyers with a selection of goods and/or services for a fixed period.

The successful suppliers provide goods and services during the contract period, including any contract extensions, and generally no new suppliers are added during the contract period.

Whole-of-government contracts are mandated and must be used by NSW Government agencies to purchase the goods and services they cover (refer Section 2:01 Plan, Existing arrangements).

Current NSW Government whole-of-government contracts can be viewed on buy.nsw.

Prequalification schemes

Prequalification schemes, also known as Multi-Use Lists, Approved Lists or Procurement Lists, allow suppliers to apply to qualify for business opportunities with government agencies. The NSW Government's Prequalification Schemes provide a more flexible procurement approach to meet the government's sourcing requirements.

Prequalification schemes provide government buyers with access to lists of resources that meet relevant experience and qualification standards. The schemes aim to reduce red tape and streamline the process for agencies to source and engage external expertise, and for suppliers to register for a range of business opportunities.

NSW government prequalification schemes have the advantage of not 'locking-up' a market, with new suppliers able to register at any time, or at least periodically.

See the list of all NSW Government prequalification schemes.

Agency-specific procurement arrangements

Agencies may have specific or unique procurement requirements or need to purchase goods or services on a one-off basis. In these cases, agencies establish their own contracts, standing offers or prequalification schemes to meet their specific needs.

While individual agencies establish and manage these arrangements, they may be made available for other agencies to use via a piggybacking clause. Piggybacking allows other agencies to use the arrangement, under the existing terms and conditions.

NSW eQuote	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Online quoting system used by agencies to seek quotes from prequalified businesses
NSW eCatalogues	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Online catalogue and purchasing system connecting buyers and suppliers• Allows suppliers to list goods and services under contract• Visible to public, but without pricing information

The Procurement Board is undertaking a refresh of the sector's digital procurement capabilities.

Responsibilities of suppliers

Suppliers to NSW Government need to fulfil a number of requirements in accordance with their agreements, which may include:

- conducting their business relationships in accordance with law and accepted standards of behaviour
- complying where relevant with the NSW Procurement Policy Framework, the Supplier Code of Conduct, the NSW Industrial Relations Guidelines: Building and Construction Procurement and the contracting agency's Statement of Business Ethics
- ensuring goods or services are delivered as per their contract with the buyer
- ensuring accurate documentation including invoices

- completing reporting requirements in relation to orders and contract spend
- participating in performance management activities with the contracting agency
- updating their contact information, product and pricing information on NSW eCatalogues.

Findings of dishonest, unfair, unconscionable, corrupt or otherwise illegal conduct, regardless of whether such conduct occurs in the context of a relationship with the NSW Government, can adversely affect the Government's reputation as a procurer. Such findings can have a range of consequences for individual suppliers, including as serious as exclusion from contracting opportunities with the Government.

Complaints and feedback

The NSW Procurement Board's responsibilities under the Public Works and Procurement Act 1912 include investigating and dealing with complaints about the procurement activities of agencies.

The NSW Procurement Board's Complaints Management Guidelines describes the process for managing complaints made about procurement, including setting out the circumstances in which the NSW Procurement Board may investigate complaints. It does not apply to complaints of a criminal or corrupt nature which should be referred to the relevant authorities for investigation.

Agencies are responsible for resolving complaints concerning their procurement actions at the appropriate agency level (usually commencing at the area undertaking the procurement), escalating as necessary and referring to external statutory bodies as appropriate.

Complaints unresolved after this process may be referred by the complainant to the Procurement Board, via the NSW Procurement Service Centre. In this instance copies of all correspondence with the agency concerned and all other relevant material will need to be provided.

The Procurement Board will review the material and information supplied by the complainant and the agency before making any decision to investigate a complaint. Where the board considers the agency has dealt with a complaint in an appropriate manner, it will decline to investigate separately.

If a complainant submits a complaint to the board prior to complaining to the relevant agency or where the agency is still considering the complaint, the board will refer the complainant to the agency concerned.

Agencies which are considered not to have complied with requirements will be required to take corrective action in relation to future procurement action. The board may issue directions and policies regarding corrective action.

Complaints handling

An effective complaints management process is integral to the principles of probity and fairness. It demonstrates the agency places a high level of importance on conducting procurement in an honest, fair, accountable and transparent manner. Complaints processes can also assist in diagnosing shortcomings in government procurement and provide a means for continuous improvement of procurement systems and standards of service.

Enforceable procurement provisions

Amendments to the Public Works and Procurement Act 1912 (PWP Act) came into effect on 29 November 2019. These amendments establish a new complaint process for alleged breaches of PBD 2019-05 Enforceable Procurement Provisions Direction (EPP Direction) relating to international procurement agreements.

An agency needs to identify and deal quickly and effectively with any complaint made under these legislative provisions. The agency will need to:

- suspend all processes involved in the procurement that would adversely affect the complainant's participation in the procurement, unless the agency head certifies that suspending the process is not in the public interest
- investigate the complaint
- take reasonable steps to resolve the complaint
- prepare a written report on the investigation.

A supplier who lodges a written complaint alleging a breach of the EPP Direction relating to international procurement agreements can, after attempting to resolve the matter with the agency, apply to the Supreme Court for an injunction requiring the agency to comply with the EPP Direction. The supplier can also apply to the Supreme Court for a compensation order.

Role of the NSW Procurement Board

The Board does not have a statutory role in considering complaints about alleged breaches of the EPP Direction. These complaints are a matter for the agency, the supplier and, if proceedings are taken, the Supreme Court.

Arrangement is a description of a contract, standing offer, scheme, or any other form of agreement between a government agency/s and supplier/s, whether or not the arrangement creates a legal relationship between the parties. There are various models of supplier arrangements in place, including:

- contracts between an agency and a supplier
- standing offer agreements between agencies and suppliers, which establish the legal arrangements for contracts relating to the purchase of goods or services

- registration lists and prequalification schemes, under which agencies then enter into contracts.

While these models create different legal relationships between agencies and suppliers, this framework refers to these as 'arrangements' for the sake of simplicity.
